HELD FOR COURT.

Amandus Levan Sits Stolidly Through Hearing While Witnesses Convict Him With the Murder.

MINEAR and BOYD CONFESS.

The confession of Minear and Boyd that they were guilty of highway robbery, and that Levan had proposed and planned the crime, made before justice of the peace Jacoby in his office Monday afternoon, was the sensational climax of Levan's hearing in the Court House on the charge of murder. Now if Levan does escape the murder charge he will at least have a term in the penitentiary staring him in the face. The hearing attracted a goodly number of Centraliaites to town. They paid close attention to the proceedings and manifested a marked interest in the testimony of the various witnesses.

The COLUMBIAN reporter sat where he could hear the various opinions of the Centralia contingent. From their remarks it is evident that Levan bears a very unsavory reputation. Now and then they would speak a good word for Minear and Boyd, but with Levan it was different and there seems to be a unanimous feeling that he is guilty. It was about two o'clock when Justice Jacoby took his place in the court room. Before him slightly to the right sat Minear and Boyd. Notwithstanding the admission that they are guilty of highway robbery, it must be said that they didn't look like criminals, particularly Minear. He is only a boy not yet twenty years of age, and his general appearance ill-befitted one guilty of so gross an infraction of law and humanity. Boyd was decidedly the rougher looking of the two, but even he would not be taken for a person in whom the sense of honor is entirely dead.

Clyde C. Yetter, counsel for Minear and Boyd waived a formal hearing after which the case against Levan was taken up. The prisoner was not present at the time, and the proceedings rested until Sheriff Knorr brought him from the jail.

The first witness called was Patrick McGinley the murdered man's brother in law. He testified that he had worked with McAndrews all night previous to the murder, and that he had given him his pay envelope containing something over thirty dollars. He was with him about half an hour after they quit work Monday morning. He next saw him at his house and assisted in removing him to the hospital and was present when the physicians treated him.

Dr. Gwinner of Centralia testified. He was driving from Centralia to Mid Valley when he found McAndrews behind a clump of bushes. His head and face were swollen, and blood was flowing from his nose and mouth. He appeared conscious and made an effort to talk but he couldn't articulate. "I did not think at the time" said Dr. Gwinner, "that he was so seriously injured. At the post mortem examination, in which I assisted I found that the temporal bones were both crushed; there was a fracture extending down to the base of the brain, and the brain was clotted with blood." The body had been moved from where it was first found by two other men to where it was found by Dr. Gwinner. He inspected the place where it previously laid, in a pile of rocks, and there he found a pool of blood. A few feet distant lay a club, a fresh cut sappling a foot and a half long and about an inch thick and it was with this he believes the mortal blows were struck. His first impression was that McAndrews had fallen and hit his head against the stones, but in re-direct examination he said "I changed my opinion at the post mortem examination. I cannot conceive how it could be possible for the wounds to have been self inflicted." The testimony of Edward Honabach had considerable bearing on the case inasmuch as it showed that Levan was with McAndrews before the murder, and that he knew of the money on McAndrews' person. Mr. Honabach is a hotel keeper at Aristes. He testified that about ten o'clock in the morning of March 30th McAndrews appeared at his hotel. He

ST. CECILIA'S DAY.

The Cantata Will be Given by Bloomsburg Choral Society.

ON MONDAY, MAY 28th.

The Bloomsburg Choral Society was organized a few months ago for the purpose of cultivating a higher musical taste, and to afford an opportunity for improvement in vocal culture to all those who desire to take advantage of it. Weekly rehearsals have been held in the Normal Auditorium, at first under the direction of Miss Comba, and for the past two weeks under Dr. D. J. J. Mason, of Wilkes-Barre, a professional director of high reputation.

Rapid progress has been made, and the Society has decided to give a public entertainment in the Normal Auditorium on Thursday evening, May 28th.

The leading number on the program will be the Contata of St. Cecilia's Day, a beautiful composition by J. B. Van Bree. The scene is laid in Frascati, a beautiful hilly country in the neighborhood of Rome, at sunset. In the foreground to the right are supposed to be youths and maidens binding wreaths to deck the marble statue of St. Cecilia. To the left, a youth leans against a broken pillar with lute in hand. Later on, huntsmen are supposed to descend from the hills, and sing the male chorus "Rise and break the chains." The composition abounds in beautiful and effective choruses. The solo parts will be taken by Miss Hettie Cope, Miss Mary Albert and Mr. R. F. Colley.

Dr. Mason will lead, and the instrumental music will be played by Mrs. J. K. Miller and Mrs. R. F. Colley on two grand pianos. It will be the best drilled chorus that has ever sung in Bloomsburg. The society includes about fifty persons.

The program will contain other numbers, consisting of choruses, solos, etc., which will be announced later.

The proceeds will be devoted to the payment of the expenses and the purchase of new music, and such other items as are necessary to place the society on a permanent basis.

Coupnos will be for sale by members of the society from Saturday morning on, which must be exchanged for reserve seats on the diagram at Bidleman's which will be open on Monday morning, May 25th at 9 o'clock. Tickets can also be procured at that time and later at Bidleman's, and at the door on Thursday evening.

The price of tickets including reserved seats has been placed at the very low sum of 25 cents, not because it is a "cheap show" but because it is a new venture, and it is desired that it may have the encouragement of a large audience. Remember the date, May 28th, and get your seats marked early.

BEFORE 'SQUIRE JACOBY.

Thomas Metherell Jr., Bernhard Girton and John Brobst were arraigned before 'Squire Jacoby Tuesday morning on the charge of assault and battery, committed upon Hiram Long. The assault was made, Long asserted, in the basement of the Central Hotel, Saturday night. His face and head still bare evidence of it. Several disinterested persons were called to give testimony all of which tended to substantiate Metherell's claim that he struck the blows in self defense, and he was accordingly discharged. Long made no charge against the other two and they were also discharged.

Long was apparently out hunting trouble, which is not an unusual thing for him, and the boys had no desire to quarrel with him, in fact they treated him several times thinking that it would pacify him but he persisted in making himself obnoxious, until he started the fight in which he deservedly got the worst of it.

Telephone Officials Change.

G. B. Wright Superintendent of the United Telephone and Telegraph Company for this district, has accepted the position of General Superintendent for the York State Telephone Company with headquarters at Binghamton. H. N. Daniels will succeed Mr. Wright at Sunbury. The changes went into effect May 18th.

SAFE SHATTERED.

But Robbers Secure no Money. Nitro Glycerine Employed.

AN EARLY ATTEMPT.

An attempt to rob the safe in the Ikeler & Fleckenstine flouring mill was made early Sunday morning. The exact time as registered by a clock which stopped by the explosion was 3:17. Dynamite was employed. The outer door of the safe was torn off by the burglars and lay several feet away. The would be robbers however, had apparently made no attempt to open the second or inner door, they in all probability fearing that the explosion had been heard, and fled to avoid capture. But strangely the noise was heard by only one person. Prof. J. H. Dennis who lives on East Fifth street just north of the mill was up at the time, and he heard a rumbling sound, but it was not sufficient violence to alarm him and he paid little attention to it.

Even Henry Ludlow, the night watchman at the Hawley-Slate Furniture Factory, whose duty it is to be up and about the plant at frequent intervals during the night, did not hear any thing unusual when he made his last round, which was about a half hour before the explosion. He heard a wagon pass, going in the direction of Oak Grove and the supposition is that it belonged to the guilty party, they thinking that it would afford a better and quicker method of escape in case of detection.

The burglars had, to all appearances but little trouble in effecting an entrance to the mill. A pane of glass had been removed from one of the windows, which enabled them to reach the lock.

Had they succeeded in opening the inner door of the safe their reward would have been small, as it contained only a few dollars and a lot of unendorsed checks.

An examination of the safe shows the work of professionals. All the crevices had been carefully soaped which served to hold the nitroglycerine and enable it to perform its work more effectively.

TOO MUCH FOR THE MONEY.

It has been said many times that the fifteen cent suppers served by the churches of our town are too good for the price. At any hotel or restaurant the same bill of fare would cost from twenty-five to fifty cents. If one takes into consideration the cost of the articles given, and puts upon the services of all those who assist a fair value, there is little doubt but what money is lost on every such supper. It has been suggested that all the churches unite in an an agreement not to serve any more meals at the price of fifteen cents. People would just as willingly pay twenty or twenty-five cents, and at the former figure the additional five cents would nearly pay all the cash expenses of the supper.

This is a question that is worthy of conssderation, and it would be well for the proper authorities of each church to appoint a representative to consider the matter, at a joint meeting to be held for the purpose. There is no little labor connected with giving such a supper, and it is to be presumed that the main object is to procure funds for the church, and not merely for the sake of giving away a good meal at less than cost.

MANY FRIENDS MANIFEST RESPECT.

The remains of Jay M. Brown arrived here from Denver, Colorado on Saturday and were taken in charge by Undertaker G. G. Baker. The funeral occurred on Sunday, and was largely attended. The remains were taken to Light Street for burial. When the procession arrived at the cemetery the Light Street Band of which the deceased had been a member and through whose energy it was organized, rendered a selection. The choir of the Light Street Methodist Episcopal church and a quartette sang beautifully and impressively. After a prayer by Rev. Whitney, the body was lowered to its resting place.

Albert Girton of Jerseytown, met with an accident on Sunday, in which his nose was broken. He and his two sons were returning home from church, when the two front wheels pulled out and all three were precipitated head first to the ground. The horse took fright and ran away. Neither of the boys were hurt.

FLAMES ARE MASTER

Conditions In Adirondacks Are Very Much Worse.

FISHERS AND CAMPERS CARELESS.

One Fire Has Burned Over Six Miles of Territory, and Loss to Lumber Traders Has Been Very Serious.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 20.—Reports received at the offices of lumber companies here who are heavy Adirondack landholders say that the conditions throughout the woods is critical by reason of the extended drought. There is hardly a township in the heavily wooded sections of Warren, Hamilton and Essex but that is ablaze. The state is a heavier loser than the lumber companies, for the reason that the latter's fire fighting force is better organized. The fire wardens are heavily handicapped in securing men.

A large portion of the population of the woods where the fires are burning the fiercest is a roving one, and as the money to pay for fighting fire is not available until next February it is difficult to secure the force that is needed, and in many instances the wardens make but little effort to stop the fires. One of the worst fires that has been reported so far this season started on Baird mountain northeast of Luzerne and has already burned over a track of country six miles long and a mile wide. Fire wardens of three towns are directing the fight, but it has passed practically out of their control.

George R. Finch of Finch, Pruin & Co., who are one of the heaviest holders in Adirondack lands, says that fishermen and campers are responsible for half of the fires that devastate the north woods yearly. "It takes an expert to put out a camp fire in the woods," said Mr. Finch. "The ground is covered with a thick blanket of dried decayed vegetation that resembles punk. A man may think his camp fire is out, and a few days later it will work up perhaps a couple of hundred yards from the place where it started."

The Hudson river is the lowest that it has been in years. A half dozen of the big lumber drives are hung up on the shoals between the Boreas river and Glens Falls. The supply of logs in the big boom which is used as storage for the lumber and paper companies is running low, and unless the drought is soon ended the paper and lumber mills will be seriously handicapped in their operations.

The Drought In New York State.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 20.—Tuesday was the warmest day known here this season in many years, the thermometer registering 95 in the shade. Farmers and fruit growers are complaining of dry weather. All crops are greatly retarded, and without rain soon the loss will be heavy. The dry weather has caused many forest fires which have driven many snakes out of the brush. In some instances they have taken refuge in farmers' houses.

Thirty Fires In Maine Woods.

AUGUSTA, Me., May 20.—Forest Commissioner Ring, just returned from a trip to the northern part of the state, reports that there are thirty different forest fires now in progress in the Maine woods, extending from Oxford county to the St. John river. The woods are extremely dry, and the danger of additional fires is growing more serious each day. Vast areas of timber lands have been burned over.

Williamsburg Honors Schwab.

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., May 20.—Williamsburg, the oldest and probably the quietest town in Blair county, gave a great welcome to its most distinguished son, Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation. The occasion was the laying of the cornerstone of the Williamsburg Paper mill, an industrial enterprise to which Mr. Schwab has contributed $100,000. In view of the recent disaster in the neighborhood of Williamsburg, by which several lives were lost by the blowing up of a dynamite factory, Mr. Schwab announced that he would place in the hands of a local committee $10,000 worth of paper mill stock to be distributed to the worthy poor.

Glass Plant at Glenshaw Destroyed.

PITTSBURG, May 20.—A fire which threatened to destroy the whole town of Glenshaw, along the Pittsburg and Western railroad, broke out in the plant of the Glenshaw Glass company. Assistance was summoned from Etna and surrounding boroughs. In addition to the total destruction of the plant where the fire originated, it had already destroyed the plant of the Wittmer Brick company, the Jackson and Murray hotels and the residence of John H. Meyers, the handsomest in the town. The loss is estimated at $100,000, with very little insurance. The town is almost without fire protection, depending on a volunteer department. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Atlantic Wreck Recalled.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 20.—George Smith, one of the few survivors of the steamship Atlantic, wrecked off Meagher rock, Nova Scotia, in 1873, when upward of 500 perished, has just died in the insane asylum here.

KENT WANTS A STAY.

Judge Says He Was Responsible For Girl's Death.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 19.—George Raines has served on District Attorney Warren notice of an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt on behalf of Leland Dorr Kent, who was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. The application is to be made at 8 o'clock tomorrow night before Supreme Court Justice Davy of Penn Yan.

In sentencing Kent Judge Sutherland said:

"I will say that I concur entirely in the conclusion which the jury arrived at as to the manner by which Miss Dingle met her death. I have no doubt that Miss Dingle gave her consent to die, and her participation to some extent in the preliminary preparations for death would not have necessarily absolved you from the graver charge of murder if you had been indicted for that offense, because you willfully, knowingly, inflicted the mortal wound.

"The few weeks prior to this tragedy may have had for you some temporary allurements and pleasures, but that kind of life inevitably leads down to disgrace, disorder and death."

THE BRIDGEPORT STRIKE.

All Quiet, but Trouble is Seething Still.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 20.—The strike situation is quiet, and with one single exception there was no violence reported in the city last night. This case occurred on Barnum avenue. Abraham Munt, a coal cart driver, called out an offensive name and threw a piece of coal which struck a motorman in the face. Sheriff Hawley was near by, and he placed Munt under arrest.

Three young men were arrested for using offensive language to the nonunion men, and they were held under $300 bonds.

No attempt was made to run the cars after 6 o'clock last night. Very few persons are patronizing the cars when run, and because of this fact the striking trolleymen put busses on all the streets through which trolley cars pass.

Sheriff Hawley has sent notices to all the twenty-three towns in the county asking that constables of those towns report to him for duty here at noon next Saturday. The sheriff now thinks that with the co-operation of the police it will be unnecessary to call on the governor for state aid.

CAPTAIN OVERTON KILLED.

Pagano Prisoners Suddenly Rush His Guard and Escape.

MANILA, May 18.—Captain Clough Overton of the Fifteenth cavalry and Private Harry Noyes, who were killed on Friday at Sucatlan, island of Mindanao, met their deaths at the hands of insurgent prisoners whom they were guarding. Their companion in this duty, Private Hartlow, was wounded at the same time.

Captain Overton's troops of the Fifteenth had been scouting in the department of Misamis, Mindanao, on the trail of the insurgent leader Flores. The cavalrymen captured fifty of Flores' followers and confined them in a house at Sucatlan. Captain Overton and three men remained to guard the prisoners, while Lieutenant Cameron continued in pursuit of Flores. The prisoners suddenly broke out of the house where they were confined, secured their bolos and rushed the four Americans on guard. Captain Overton was slashed with a bolo and bled to death.

TURKS STOP ARMED YACHT.

Detained In Error, Sultan Decorates Lady Owner.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 19.—Two small rapid fire guns on the deck of Mrs. Robert Goelet's yacht, the Nahma, although they are used only for saluting with blank charges, were enough to cause the detention of that craft at the Dardanelles for forty-eight hours.

When she arrived here the sultan sent the grand master of ceremonies with his respects to Mrs. Goelet, welcomed her and conferred upon her the Grand Cordon of the Chefekat, one of the most notable decorations within the gift of the sultan.

Bribery Investigation.

BOSTON, May 20.—The charges of George J. Raymond, a merchant of this city, that Harry C. Foster of Gloucester, a member of the state senate this year, as well as last, had demanded money of him to "save" a certain measure were emphatically denied at the hearing before the senate investigating committee. The accused senator was on the witness stand about twenty minutes. He readily admitted going to Mr. Raymond's office, but said he did so in response to a request from that gentleman, who asked him for advice on a pending measure. Mr. Foster told him that he had better employ counsel and suggested ex-Senator William A. Butler as a good man to further the proposed bill. With the introduction of Mr. Butler to Mr. Raymond Mr. Foster said his connection with the case closed.

Two Italians and Two Horses Killed.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., May 20.—During an electrical storm lightning killed two Italian laborers and a pair of horses here. The men were employed on the New Haven road and had taken shelter under a tree. Upon search being made their bodies, as well as those of the horses, were found.

PARIS, May 20.—Senor Raphael Merchan, the first Cuban minister to France, Spain and Portugal, has presented his credentials to President Loubet. There was the usual exchange of courtesies. The minister will make his headquarters at Madrid.

VETERANS REUNITE

Great Gathering of Ex-Confederates at New Orleans.

A NOTABLE SPEECH BY GORDON.

Commander In Chief In Opening Address Says the Day of Bitterness and Animosity Has Ended Forever.

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—The United Confederate Veterans opened their thirteenth annual reunion under the most favorable auspices. The great auditorium erected in the center of the race track at the fair grounds was filled with a cheering, enthusiastic multitude long before the hour set for the formal opening, and when at noon General J. B. Levert, commanding the Louisiana division, called the convention to order there was not a vacant seat in the hall, which easily holds 19,000 people.

As the commander in chief of the Veterans, General John B. Gordon, came to the front of the rostrum the delegates rose en masse and gave him cheer after cheer. The general repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments of the loyal and affectionate greeting and when the tumult had subsided he replied as follows:

"To my thought it is most fitting that this proud and patriotic organization should again meet in this historic city which gave it birth. The meeting of such men as you welcome today, whose past deeds will remain forever an inspiration to American valor and to future sacrifices for constitutional freedom, is an auspicious event in the country's history whenever and wherever it may occur, but how peculiarly inspiring is this reunion in Louisiana on this one hundredth anniversary of her new birth into governmental alliance with American states!

"A Roman eye would have discovered in a meeting of such men at such time an omen of good to the cause of liberty, and American eyes should see in it nothing but good to the whole republic. It must of necessity be beneficent and only beneficent. We will not indulge on this centennial, this political millennial morning, nor at other times, in any bitterness. We feel none. We pity those who do. We have long since drawn the curtain of oblivion over the regretful and unseemly things of the past, and we cherish as Americans the valor and noble deeds of both armies and of all sections. We are satisfied with our record, and the power that would attempt to make us blush for it would be both stupid and blind.

"We are heirs, joint heirs, with the republic's children in the inheritance of freedom left by our sires. We are proud of all the past. Moreover, we are now facing a future pregnant with tremendous possibilities, but we face it with a strength of hope and assurance borne of an unswerving purpose to discharge our every duty to all races and to the whole country. We are growing old, but we still stand firmly on the narrow strip of land which separates us from a boundless ocean."

To Remove Patrick Henry's Body.

RICHMOND, Va., May 20.—A strong movement has begun in Richmond for the removal of the body of Patrick Henry from its present grave in Charlotte county to St. John's church yard in this city and the erection of a marble monument to the great Virginia orator and leader of the Revolution. It was in St. John's church that Henry made his famous speech ending, "Give me liberty or give me death."

Little Bay, N. F., Devastated.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 20.—Fire has devastated the mining town of Little Bay, where a large copper mine is being worked. Three churches, with the clergymen's residences, the mining company's stores, the government buildings and forty dwellings were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. Two hundred and fifty persons are homeless, and relief is being forwarded by the authorities.

Southern Railway Has Bad Wreck.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 20.—Nine people were injured in a wreck on the Southern railway a mile and a half southeast of this city yesterday at 5 o'clock. Those whose hurts are regarded as serious are Elvin Fleming of Wilson, N. C., probably internally, and State Representative H. B. Parker of Wayne, cut and bruised about the head and back. The others received only superficial cuts and bruises.

Died on Eve of Marriage.

NEWARK, N. J., May 20.—Evan Lyons of Washington while visiting at the home of Thomas B. Harrison was found dead in a chair in his room yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lyons was about sixty years old and was to have been married today to a daughter of Mr. Harrison. Death was apparently due to heart failure.

Admiral Schley at El Paso.

EL PASO, Tex., May 20.—Admiral Schley has arrived here from Mexico. His trip through the republic was one continuous ovation on the part of the American colonies in the cities through which he passed.

ROOSEVELT IN NEVADA.

Welcomed at Reno—Moody Will Go to Cheyenne.

RENO, Nev., May 20.—The presidential party arrived at Reno after a 317 mile ride from Raymond, Cal. Ten minutes later the train left by the Virginia and Truckee railroad for Carson.

E. J. Barlow of Battle Mountain, a rough rider, was one of the president's callers. The president was presented with a string of Truckee river trout, fresh from their mountain home, and a case of Nevada honey when his train passed through on its way to Carson.

Secretary Moody, who joined the president at Riverside, Cal., and who was soon to have left for Washington, has accepted the president's invitation to go through to Cheyenne with him. Cheyenne will be reached Saturday week.

Roosevelt In the Yosemite.

YOSEMITE, Cal., May 18.—A furious snowstorm is raging in the mountains here. President Roosevelt is quartered at the Glacier Point hotel. The remainder of the party, numbering about thirty, will be forced down to the valley, four miles below, as accommodations are limited at the hotel.

Shortly after noon the president's party, occupying four stages, entered the Yosemite valley. The president eluded a large crowd awaiting him in the valley by taking the trail, with a few members of his party, at Chinquapin, thirteen miles from here. The colored troopers of the Ninth cavalry broke the trail through the snow, which was deep in places. The remainder of the party took horses and mules at the foot of the trail for Glacier point, one mile below the Sentinel hotel.

President Breaks the Record.

BERENDA, Cal., May 19.—President Roosevelt in a coach did the Yosemite park from Yosemite to Raymond, where his train awaited him, in ten hours of actual travel, a distance of sixty-nine miles, thus breaking all previous records.

The president passed the night in camp at Bridal Veil falls, a few miles from the post office at Yosemite. He slept soundly and when he awoke declared he had never felt better in his life. His looks bore out his words. The members of his party joined the president at the falls. Here he bade goodby to his guides, Lydig and Leonard, and mounted to his seat on the coach beside the driver.

A special train from Fresno brought members of the chamber of commerce and their friends, and they warmly greeted the president as he appeared on the rear platform of his car. He made a brief address, thanking the people for coming to see him.

RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR'S REPORT

Money Lending Jews Are Hated by Peasants.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has made the following statement relative to the Jewish troubles in Russia:

"There is in Russia, as in Germany and Austria, a feeling against certain of the Jews. The reason is that the Jews will not work in the field or engage in agriculture. They prefer to be money lenders. Give a Jew a couple of dollars, and he becomes a banker and money broker.

"In this capacity he takes advantage of the Russian peasant, whom he soon has in his power and ultimately destroys. It is when the patience of the peasant is exhausted that a conflict between peasants and Jews occurs. Ordinarily the Russian is a very patient person, but it is only natural that he should entertain a feeling of resentment for the one who has wrought his ruin.

Survey of New Naval Base.

HAVANA, May 20.—It is officially denied that the Cuban government suggested that Cuban engineers accompany the United States cruiser Olympia to assist in the survey of the harbor of Guantanamo preparatory to the establishment of a naval base. The suggestion, it is stated, originated in Washington, and the Cubans accepted it.

Patronize the Advertiser.

Newspaper readers should make it a rule to patronize those who advertise and are not afraid to publicly invite everybody to come and see the goods and prices. When a merchant invites you to patronize him, rest assured that he wants your trade and will give you the best goods for your money. Furthermore, what he says in his advertisements he is prepared to fulfill and his promises can be relied upon. To make false representation—having neither the goods nor the inclination to make them good—means a loss of patronage, and no honorable merchant will be guilty of such conduct.

Take a Day Off.

If you haven't done it yet, take part of a day, or even a few hours off from work, and get out into the country at this most beautiful of all seasons. Just now is the time for that outing you have been promising yourself during a long winters toil. Never will nature appear at greater advantage After while she will have lost her first blush of early spring: her color will be toned down by heat or dust or drouth, the streams will be low or dried up and the inertia of summer will perhaps prevail so that you won't want to make the effort.

Drop everything and go at once and you will never regret it. Get into the woods and hills and then say if any man's handiwork can compare with the gifts of nature. The artist can revel in a perfect feast of colors; the delicate greens of tree and grain, the purplish brown of the freshly turned fields, the deep yellow of cinque-foil of buttercup, the lavenders of wild geranium, the faintest pink of the phlox and the deeper tone of wild azalea, the blue purple of the tiny gill-over-the-ground and the purple pink of the Judas tree, the dainty pink and white of spring beauty, the creamy wax like hue of the Mayapple, and the great masses of dogwood in all their gleaming whiteness will imprint themselves on the eye and memory as a mass of glowing beauty. The blossoms of apple and peach and cherry have somewhat lost their freshness, but still there is much to be seen in flower and shrub to amply repay you for the trip. Beg, take or even steal the time, if necessity bids, turn away from man and handiwork and study for a space what utilitarian spirit has not yet defaced, the beauty and freshness of untrammeled nature. Your work and you will both be benefited and the memory of the outing will be an inspiration for weeks to come. Don't talk about going but go.—Clinton Democrat.

Catching Bass Out of Season.

The Bass season does not open until the fifteenth day of June, nevertheless one already hears stories of illegal fishing in which large quantities of black bass are taken from the river. This according to the statement of a gentleman living along the river has been going on for some time, the sly fisherman resorting to various devices which give the bass but little chance to escape.

The spawning season is barely over and to take bass in a wholesale way at such a time is sure to result in a diminution of the splendid game fish, which will be felt later on.

A favorite device among the illegal fishermen just at present is to catch a live minnow and to suspend it in the water over the spawning beds of the black bass, which just now are very jealously guarded by the mother fish. The intruding minnow is sure to attract the attention of the old fish and they are quick to seize it with the result that they are caught by the hook concealed inside.

It is hoped that the illegal fishermen will not lose sight of the penalty provided by the law, which subjects them to a fine of ten dollars for every black bass, wall-eyed pike, Susquehanna salmon, pike, pickerel and sunfish that are caught before the fifteenth day of June. The season for these fish closes on the fifteenth day of February.—

Fire Destroys Famous Hotel.

The famous Minnequa hotel, at Minnequa Springs was destroyed by fire on May 13th. The big hotel, while completely furnished, has not been open to the public for two seasons, though a caretaker was constantly in charge. The hotel caught from a forest fire which crossed a grass-covered stretch of field until sparks ignited the roof of the hotel. The Minnequa hotel was built during Peter Herdic's time, and for many years was one of the most popular resorts in Pennsylvania. The main part of the hotel was five stories in height, of brick, 75x100 feet, with a wide porch on every floor. Then there was a frame wing 100x30 feet, in which the parlors and large ball room were located.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure to get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

DEAL IN BUFFALOES.

Largest Herd in the World, Consisting of 75 Animals, Has Just Changed Owners.

The largest herd of buffaloes in the world has just changed hands. There are 75 of the animals in the bunch, the nucleus of which was the five small buffalo calves in 1882, when they were caught on the great plains and placed in captivity. At that time the Dupree family were hunting and capturing the calves. They were with an immense herd on the Little Missouri river and after being taken were hauled in a wagon to the Dupree ranch. They were carefully reared, and after the first five years the increase has been very heavy. At different times animals have been sold to menageries and zoological gardens throughout the country, but in the main they have been allowed to roam at will over the 1,000-acre tract upon which they are confined, and consequently have lost none of their shyness where man is concerned.

"OLD MONARCH."

James W. Phillips, a wealthy ranchman, has purchased the entire herd and has removed them to his ranch in South Dakota. He has enclosed an immense tract of fine grazing land with a fence 12 feet high and very strong. The posts are placed three feet from each other, and every precaution made to properly care for the big animals.

Phillips, the new owner, is himself one of the unique characters of South Dakota. Coming to Dakota when a boy of 16 with nothing but the clothes on his back, he is now a millionaire several times over and has made a success of the cattle business. He has been a resident of this country almost 30 years and knows every man, woman and child in it. His early life was replete with adventures with Indians and outlaws, and while still a young man he has seen much of life.

Just what he intends to do with his new purchases is not clear. It is reported that he intends to take the entire herd to the Louisian Purchase exposition at St. Louis, that being his scheme to attract attention to South Dakota. From this it is said he expects to sell thousands of acres of land which he owns but for which there is no market at present.

This is by far the largest herd of buffalo in existence, says the New York Herald, the second largest being that owned by Buffalo Bill in the Big Horn basin of Wyoming. Here Col. Cody has a herd of about 40 buffaloes, six or eight of which he takes with him with his Wild West show.

In the foot hills of Montana is located the only herd of wild buffaloes known. The band contains only 20 or 25 animals and is slowly decreasing. There is a strict rule against killing them, and they are not molested by hunters, but occasionally a mountain wolf succeeds in pulling down a calf or a heifer. In this way the herd is gradually losing ground, and within a few years will have disappeared.

But the Dupree herd is fast gaining in number, and within a few years Mr. Phillips will have more buffaloes than he knows what to do with.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, May 18, 1903.

There is considerable concern manifested among members of the Cabinet and other prominent officials in Washington regarding the extent and the emphasis with which the President, in his western speeches, is dwelling upon the Monroe Doctrine. It is believed in the East that the Monroe Doctrine is most expensive to maintain and brings with it no adequate return. It has been pointed out that whenever an European nation secures control of a colony the commercial status of the newly acquired territory becomes fixed, the demand for foreign goods increases and the United States secures its share of the commerce. In South America, however, the integrity of numerous petty governments is preserved by the United States and the result is that these little countries are constantly at war, that they repudiate their commercial obligations without hesitation and to the serious loss of every American businessman who attempts to deal with them, and that even when the United States has a favor to ask, as in the case of the Panama canal, it receives even less consideration than is accorded European nations. Under these circumstances the officials referred to regard it as ill-advised for the President to dwell with such marked emphasis upon the subject. The facts are, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt is afraid to discuss the tariff because of the factional differences on that subject in his own party, is unwilling to discuss trust and monopolies for fear of further offending the Wall Street interests and finds the Monroe Doctrine a safe topic because few people understand it and most regard it as a sort of patriotic duty to uphold it. Incidentally, Mr. Roosevelt wants a larger navy and the alleged necessity of maintaining the Monroe Doctrine furnishes an excuse for his coveted "big stick".

It is learned on authority of a member of the Cabinet that the President and Senator Hanna have made a trade whereby the former will welcome as his running mate, provided he secures the nomination, Mr. Myron T. Herrick whom Mr. Hanna is just now booming for Governor of Ohio. The Cabinet officer alluded to was invited into the President's official family because of his political sagacity. He says, "Colonel Herrick is one of the strongest possibilities for the second place on the ticket. It seems now that the likelihood of his being nominated will become much stronger if he is triumphantly elected governor of Ohio next fall. Should his majority fall far below normal, however, his availability will be seriously affected."

Secretary of State Hay is now thoroughly convinced that there was no foundation for the reports forwarded here last week by Minister Conger at Pekin to the effect that the Russians had occupied Niu Chwang in Manchuria. It appears that United States Consul Miller, at Niu Chwang, heard that the Russians were to occupy the forts at that point and immediately communicated with Minister Conger who cabled the statement to this country. There had been some movement of Russian troops in Manchuria but nothing in violation of the treaty stipulations. Although it is stoutly maintained at the State and Navy Departments that nothing has occurred to necessitate the presence of a stronger naval fleet in Chinese waters, it is regarded as somewhat significant that within the past week the Wisconsin, the Raleigh, the Albany and the Cincinnati have been ordered to attach themselves to the Asiatic squadron.

Representative Swanson of Virginia one of the democratic leaders on the floor of the House, is in Washington and recently expressed some views on the presidential situation. Mr. Swanson regards Senator Gorman as the most available man in the party but names Judge Parker of New York as his second choice. He sees encouragement in the enthusiasm with which Mr. Cleveland has been received on several occasions as demonstrating more than usual interest in the democratic nominee and arguing success for the democratic ticket but he does not believe Mr. Cleveland stands the slightest chance of being nominated.

The most important development in the Postoffice situation during the past week has been the summary removal of August W. Machen, general superintendent of the division of free delivery, and the appointment as acting superintendent of M. C. Fosnes, who is regarded as the most able postoffice inspector in the service. It will be remembered that it was Mr. Fosnes who cleared up the Cuban postal service after Estes C. Rathbone had gotten it into an almost inextricable muddle. Since Machen's removal some important discoveries have been made although their character will not be revealed until Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow completes his report. It has been announced that the appropriation for rural routes has been exhausted and no further routes will be established until after July 1.

There have been removed from office four officials against whom charges have been preferred, Judge Tyner, Mr. Christiancy, Tyner's assistant, Machen and Superintendent Beavers, although the latter was permitted to resign. It is not believed that any one of these officials will be permitted to resume his duties. In the case of Machen there appears to be no occasion for his office. There is now a superintendent of city free delivery and a superintendent of rural free delivery. As "general superintendent of free delivery" Machen occupied a position analogous to that of an assistant postmaster general which he had labored to have himself appointed. It is now regarded as more than likely that after the conclusion of the present investigation the division of the city free delivery will remain under the supervision of the First Assistant Postmaster General and that of the rural free delivery will be permanently transferred to the bureau presided over by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General where it will be in close relationship with the star routes, etc. apparently its natural location.

The Strenuous Life.

Every day the system needs a certain quantity of nutrious matter to supply the deficiencies of the day before. The building up process must begin at the breakfast table. "It", the new cereal, tastes good and furnishes that material. A breakfast of "It" fits the entire body for the strenuous trials of the day. "It" is made of the best selected wheat. "It" has a taste to it. One dish makes you want another. You can eat "It" at any meal. At grocers everywhere. 3-12 1y

Huckleberry Crop Destroyed.

The indications are that there will be a poor huckleberry crop to speak of this year, two severe forest fires having destroyed large sections of the territory upon which the huckleberry bush grows. This will be a severe hardship for many poor people who earn considerable money each year by gathering huckleberries and disposing of them.

BUSINESS MEN'S RESOLUTION.

At a special meeting of the Merchants' Association, composed of the merchants and business men of Sunbury and vicinity, the following resolution was recently passed:

"Resolved, That the members of this association shall not at any time after the passage of this resolution enter into any scheme of advertising other than legitimate newspaper advertising, and that no other scheme, such as programmes, hotel registers, tickets to festivals, suppers, balls, dances, entertainments, chances in things of value, trading stamps, prizes, etc., shall be patronized or used by members of this association."

This action was taken, no doubt, because of the constant demands upon the business men for advertising in the ways mentioned above. Of course, there are other ways of advertising besides the newspapers, which bring good results, but many of the schemes are utterly valueless, and amount simply to a cash contribution from the merchant, for which he gets no returns whatever. There are men in this town, and in every town, who never do any newspaper advertising, but who are ready to seize every opportunity to patronize a stranger who comes along with some fake scheme.

One of these schemes that we have in mind is this. A few years ago two strange young men landed here in the morning, secured forty dollars for advertising cards on blotters about ten by fifteen inches, to be distributed among the hotels, got their printing done in the afternoon, and left town in the evening with thirty two dollars clear profit in their pockets. They agreed to have five hundred blotters printed, but ordered only fifty and these were all delivered to one hotel. The landlord threw them under the counter and they never were seen again until they went into the waste basket. The printing was done at this office, and we got the story from the men themselves who were chuckling over the fine string of "suckers" they had caught. Some months afterward we saw the blotters taken from under the counter and the landlord gave us his part of the story as he threw them away.

This is only one of hundreds of the same kind of schemes that are worked on business men. The safe way is to deal with men you know, and who are accountable for what they do, and who can't afford to fake you.

White Vests, Also Vacation.

Notice has been posted by the P. & R. Railway Company announcing that passenger conductors will be permitted to wear white vests during the summer, thus doing away with keeping their coats constantly buttoned. All passenger conductors who have been in the service of the company for five years will be granted a week's vacation.

Weak?

"I suffered terribly and was extremely weak for 12 years. The doctors said my blood was all turning to water. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon feeling all right again."
Mrs. J. W. Fiala, Hadlyme, Ct.

No matter how long you have been ill, nor how poorly you may be today, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine you can take for purifying and enriching the blood.

Don't doubt it, put your whole trust in it, throw away everything else.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.

Two New Routes.

Two new routes will be added to the rural free delivery service in Columbia county, commencing June 1st. Both routes start at Jerseytown and are as follows:

Leaving Jerseytown goes to Buckhorn, to Mausteller's bridge, to Linden Hill school house, to Leidy Zeisloft's, to Dutch Hill church, to Black Run, through by Jerseytown and the Eyersgrove road, following the road into town, a distance of nearly twenty-four miles. Charles Girton will be the carrier.

The second goes down to the Montour county line, over to Washingtonville, by Matthew Sheep's and James Lowry's, to James Russell's, to A. C. Smith's, up Allen Hollow to Katies church, to Cox's down Spruce Run to Madison school house, to Chamberlin's, to John Smith's farm, to John Wolf's farm, down to E. H. Kramer's farm, thence to Jerseytown via the Whitehall road. Charles Wintersteen will be the carrier for this route, which covers twenty-one and a half miles.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." MRS. IRA O. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Teachers' Examination for 1903.

The following is the schedule of the examinations for provisional certificates in Columbia county this year:

Berwick, June 3; Millville, June 5; Catawissa, June 8; Centralia, June 11; Numidia, June 12; Mifflinville, June, 15; Orangeville, June 17, Bloomsburg, June 19; Benton, July 3.

Applicants will be privileged to take the examination at any of the above named places most convenient to them. The following are the requirements which were published in a recent issue of the Columbia County School Journal:

1. The examination in reading, literature and orthography will be based on the following classes which have been used in the schools during the past term: Whittier's "Snow-bound and Barefoot Boy;" Bryant's "Death of the Flowers and Thanatopsis; Longfellow's "Evangeline;" "Psalm of Life;" Hawthorne's "Great Stone Face" and "The Miraculous Pitcher."

Be thoroughly prepared on the biographies of these authors. Study their productions from a literary standpoint.

2. In order to pass in Theory it will be necessary to have mastered "Thinking and Learning to Think."

3. In Practice, each applicant will be expected to understand and explain fully the requirements as outlined in the first three years of the Course of Study used in this county.

4. In algebra the examination will cover all subjects as far as and including fractions.

5. The examination in civil government will be based on practical features of our township, county and state government.

6. The examination in arithmetic, grammar, history, geography and physiology will be based strictly on the work as outlined in the Course of Study used in this county.

Suitable paper will be furnished by the examiner. All work will be done in ink. Bring a good pen and ink with you.

Each applicant may, if he chooses, pay a slight fee of 10 cents to cover the expense of paper and stamped envelope furnished by the examiner.

Directors and patrons are always welcome visitors.

The examination will begin at 8 o'clock in order to give more time for additional branches. All are earnestly requested to be punctual.

No applicant will be granted a certificate this year who falls below 60 per cent. in any subject and whose general average is less than 65 per cent.

Candidates for Professional Certificates will complete the subject of Civil Government and the work in Algebra will extend to quadratics. Other wise the requirements will be the same as for provisionals except that more will be expected and a higher average must be attained.

In order to insure equal conditions all applicants will be required to come to Bloomsburg for the examination, with the exception of the teachers in Centralia and Conyngham who will be allowed to take the examination at Centralia, when the provisional examination is held. The reason for this can readily be seen when the distance is considered. The examination for Professional Certificates will be held, June 25th in the High School building at Bloomsburg, begining at 8 o'clock.

A Definite Proposition.

We aim to be definite in our advertising; try to have something to say and say it in such a manner that you can understand it.

Advertising space is too expensive to waste in generalities. Those who have goods to buy want to know where they can buy them to the best advantage. We have goods to sell, just the things you want to buy. By making definite statements concerning these goods, the style, the qualities, the prices, we arrest your attention. Parish House Supper.

The supper given at the Parish House last Saturday evening by St. Margaret's Guild was a record breaker, the attendance being the largest of any similar occasion ever held there. The proceeds were about one hundred dollars, and expenses about twenty dollars, leaving as the net results, eighty dollars. Mrs. Robert Hawley had the supper in charge, and it was a success in every way, the bill of fare being a most excellent one. The patronage was so unexpectedly large that the food supply began to fall short about seven o'clock, and at 7:30 they were obliged to refuse to sell supper tickets, but still had ice cream and cake. Mrs. Hawley was very ably assisted by the Guild and others. Another similar supper is talked of in the near future, for the purpose of buying dishes and silverware.

Joseph Fausey died at his home in Espy early Sunday morning after a brief illness, in the fifty-seventh year of his age. Death is attributed to congestion of the brain. By sitting in a view commanding place on a Sunday evening one can see some awful costumes, a succession if hideous nightmares, resembling, as one observer expressed himself last Sunday evening, "a collection of rainbows struck by lightning." May be it isn't a bit nice to criticise the dress of the fair sex, but really the inappropriateness in a few instances was so very absurd that we can't refrain. One dress was so encrusted with silver spangles that you couldn't look at it comfortably without blue goggles. The wearer no doubt thought it was stunning, it might look appropriate in a colored cake walk, but if a dress maker made it for street wear, it must have been in a moment if temporary aberration. But it doesn't make much difference to some girls how they look, they will continue to blunder on in their foolish frocks anyway.

Episcopal Convention.

The annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania convened in Trinity Church, Carbondale, on Monday evening, and continued through Tuesday. St. Paul's Church was represented by Rev. D. N. Kirkby and Col. J. G. Freeze. Among the business transacted was the the following:

The proposition to change the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church was almost unanimously voted down.

The petition of Rev. I. N. W. Irvine to be reinstated in the ministry, from which he was deposed by Bishop Talbot, was referred to a special committee and the committee recommended that the petition be dismissed. The report was adopted by a large vote. The decision of the Supreme court in the case of Rev. Irvine is printed in this issue.

In his annual address the Bishop suggested immediate action on the question of providing for episcopal relief, and suggested the election of a coadjutor bishop. The matter was referred to a committee which recommended the appointment of a committee to take the necessary steps toward a division of the diocese, and report next year. The recommendation was adopted.

TRUE TO HER PEOPLE

The Interesting Story of a Faithful Indian Maiden.

Was Captured by Hostile Tribe, Rescued and Educated by a White Man, But Remained a Yuma at Heart.

[Special California Letter.]

WHILE many Indian tribes have lived together in close proximity for many years in peace and harmony, it is equally true that in many other cases there has been a great deal of quarreling and fighting. With primitive people as well as with those who are more advanced in civilization it is very true that a tiny spark will often kindle a great flame. A deadly insult has often been read into a few insignificant words. The refusal of the hand of a maiden in marriage has often provoked war. Hundreds, nay, thousands, of lives have been lost in disputes over tiny strips of territory that were practically barren and valueless. Whole villages have been often destroyed because of fancied insults offered to the gods.

The secret of the enmity between the tribes that for centuries inhabited the mountains of what is now San Diego, Cal., and the Yumas, who dwell on the Colorado river, I have never been able to learn. Both people were warlike, proud and brave. The former were supreme in the mountains, the latter in the desert and by the river. Again and again conflicts took place between them. Sometimes the Yumas roamed too far over the desert to the east of the great river, and despite all their precautions they were swooped down upon by the mountain tribes and driven back with great loss of life. At other times the San Diegans would approach too near the river, and they in turn would suffer defeat.

In the neighborhood of 40 years ago the Yumas had been particularly aggressive and had severely punished the San Diegans on several successive occasions. This aroused the national pride of the mountain tribes and they gathered together in a great powwow where the war chiefs unanimously counseled a large raid upon the Yumas which should so humble and humiliate them as to keep them peaceful for at least a generation or more. Again, for days, the warriors assembled around the dance fire, where the chiefs exhorted them to brave and heroic deeds and the women incited them to acts of valor. When the time came for the march they stole as cautiously as possible across the desert, and, on nearing the main camp of the Yumas, sent out their scouts ahead to determine how and when the great attack should be made. Fortunately for them the Yumas were in the worst possible condition for the encounter. Their hunters had just brought back an unusual quantity of deer, and the whole people, warriors and all, were so gorged to repletion as to be unable to fight. After full consultation it was decided to steal upon them at night and fight at close quarters with battle hammer, battle ax, dagger of sharp deer's horn, and the few steel weapons they had obtained from the white man.

Stealthily they crept upon their unsuspecting foes. The latter had not only eaten to excess, but many of them were stupefied with a drink they made from the root of a bush called momump. The root of this is sometimes taken and chewed. For a few hours it produces an exhilarating effect, somewhat similar to that produced by hasheesh. Then the victim succumbs to a deadly stupor from which it takes him several days to recover.

It can well be imagined what a condition the Yumas were in to receive their foes. The San Diegans fell upon them and slew quite a number without any resistance. Then, flushed with victory, after scalping their dead foes, they took captive several of the women, whose lives had been spared, and one little girl. What became of the women I have never yet been able to learn. Possibly, as has often been the case, they became wives of their captors and soon lost their identity as members of a different tribe, but with the little girl it was different. She had a keen memory and a loving heart and constantly cried for her father and mother, whom she had seen slaughtered on the banks of the Colorado river. Even in those days there was something of a town at San Diego. The Indians, too, were reasonably friendly with the whites. Indeed, they were so much so that several of them used to go up into the mountains and camp near the Indians in tents at what is now known as Agua Caliente at Warner's ranch. The hot springs from which this village gained its Spanish name are known to be very good for all kinds of diseases, and ever since they have known of them white men have not been slow to avail themselves of their healing virtues.

One of the white men from San Diego, who had gone to the hot springs, somehow came to learn of the presence of this captive little girl. He saw her several times and soon became very much interested in her. When he learned her story he determined that, if possible, he would remove her from the influences that were so painful to her. With an interpreter he went to the man who owned her and threatened him with the punishment of the white man's law for the murder of the child's father and mother unless she were immediately and irrevocably given up to him. After some demur the Indian acceded to his request. With his new acquisition the man from San Diego hastened home. His wife was a woman of large and loving nature and her heart instinctively went out to the poor little Indian orphan. The couple agreed to adopt her as their own. It was not long before the little one responded fully to the love that was so generously given her, and she came to regard herself as the daughter of the white man and woman.

Years passed by. The little girl grew up to womanhood. She had been educated as became the daughter of a well-to-do citizen and was respected, honored and loved by all who knew her. Several children were born to the couple, and as these grew up they were taught to regard the Indian girl as their own sister.

There is no doubt that had the Indian girl desired to remain she might have married some white man and be living to-day, honored and respected, in or near the home of her adopted parents. But, yielding to that mysterious impulse that renders us incapable of denying our parentage, she felt an uncontrollable instinct or desire to return to her own people and become one of them. In vain her foster brothers and sisters pleaded with her. Sorrowfully, but nevertheless with determination, she decided to cross the desert and go back to the place of her birth. When she arrived among the Yumas they received her with suspicion. She did not know a single word of their language, but so powerful did instinct work that, with very little difficulty, she won her way into their hearts and soon was able to speak her native tongue as if she had never known any other. In a short time she married, and children were born to her. Her husband, a full-blooded Yuma, has always regarded her as a superior being, and throughout the tribe her opinions are largely deferred to.

While she lived with the whites she was known by the name of Maggie. When she went back to her people she told the whites who came in contact with her that her name was Maggie Scott. When I asked her why she assumed the name of Scott she replied: "While I was in San Diego I read a great many novels, but there were none that pleased me so much as those of Sir Walter Scott. Consequently, when I had to take a name for myself I chose his, and when my first son was born I called him Walter, after the great writer whose works gave me so much pleasure during the days of my civilization."

When I asked her if she had never longed to return to her civilized life she replied to the effect that, while occasionally a little longing would come into her heart, she had no real desire to leave her own people. With them she was contented to live and die.

Snowstorm in Miniature.

At an evening party in a Stockholm residence the heat became almost intolerable. The window sashes were found frozen and a pane of glass was shattered. A current of cold air rushed in and at the same instant flakes of snow were seen to fall to the floor in all parts of the room. The atmosphere was so saturated with moisture that the sudden fall in temperature produced a snowfall indoors.

Bishop Talbot Upheld.

Exceptions of Rev. Irvine Overruled by Supreme Court.

End of Legal Controversy.

The long legal controversy between the Rev. I. N. W. Irvine and Bishop Talbot and others has at last in all probability come to an end, for the Supreme Court, in a per curiam opinion, has overruled the exceptions taken by Irvine to the judgment of Common Pleas Court of Huntingdon county in his suit against Emma D. Elliot, Ethelbert Talbot and Alexander Elliot. The opinion sets out the facts and is in part as follows:

"This appellant and plaintiff in the court below, I. N. W. Irvine, was a priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and in April, 1898, was in charge of St. John's parish of Huntingdon, Pa.

"The defendant, Emma D. Elliot, was a member of that congregation; her husband was not a member and had no church connection with the parish; Ethelbert Talbot was bishop of the Diocese of Central Pensylvania in which St. John's parish was situate, and by the canons of the church had supervision and control of the religious affairs of the diocese, and was the ecclesiastical superior of Irvine.

"Plaintiff brings this appeal, assigning many reasons, but there are in substance only two:

"1—That defendants conspired to have plaintiff unlawfully deposed from the ministry.

"2—That they conspired by unlawful means to injure his reputation and standing as a Christian minister.

There is no law which imposed upon a common pleas jury the duty of passing upon the capacity or impartiality of the church court. That court believed the evidence against Irvine; therefore, their judgment, even if not approved by Irvine and his friends, and even though not impartial, is not unlawful. He had full notice of the charges, appeared and was heard; the proceedings were lawful and pronounced by a lawful court. This court, as we have said time and again, is not a court of review of the proceedings of ecclesiastical courts.

"Nor can we see any evidence that defendants conspired by unlawful means to injure the rector in his reputation and standing. They preferred grave charges, supported by evidence tending to establish them. There is nothing to show they manufactured evidence, committed perjury or suppressed the truth to bring about a false judgment. It is conceded that the members of the court were men of integrity and could not have been corrupted. They may have been too credulous, may have been mistaken as appellant argues. If so, we can do nothing to aid him.

"All the assignments of error are overruled and the judgment is affirmed."

Trolley Road to Ringtown.

A charter has been granted to the Shenandoah and Suburban Electric Street Railway Company, letters, patent and a charter having been issued to the new corporation from Harrisburg Thursday. The new company has a capital of $75,000 and its road will be five miles in length, extending from Shenandoah to Ringtown and return. The new road is to be started at once, the surveys having already been made and the route outlined. The officers of the new corporation are the following: President, Dr. D. J. Langton; secretary, J. S. Hausnick; treasurer, M. M. Mellot; directors, H. M. Bradigan, T. M. Stout, J. S. Hausnick, of Shenandoah; C. A. Snyder of Pottsville, and H. O. Bechtel, also of Pottsville, who is the solicitor for the new company.

On May 30 more than fifteen thousand rural free delivery letter carriers throughout the country will lay down their burdens for one day. They will observe Decoration Day for the first time since the establishment of the rural free delivery service. Heretofore they have been given only one holiday during the year and that has been on the fourth of July. Postmaster General Payne has decided that they are entitled to a holiday on May 30. Farmers living on free delivery routes will have to do without their mail on that day, unless they go to the nearest post office for it.

Sunday base ball must be stopped in the coal regions in the future. This means the discontinuance of many of the teams in the mining towns, as they derive their principal support from the Sunday games. The officials of the various towns have frowned on the practice and have announced their determination to stop it.

Reform in Funerals.

The Ministerial association of Reading urges a reform in the conduct of funerals that is commended by sense and a proper regard for the proprieties. They suggest economy in the style of funerals, simplicity and brevity in the service, avoidance of eulogy, no public exposure of the body, and private interment. Only in the case of a man who has been great in public life can any excuse be found for deviation from this simple programme. Almost invariably, however, the practice is quite the reverse. The surreptitious jollification of the wake may no longer be condoned, but many of our funerals, nevertheless, bear revolting resemblance to social affairs, and frequently the love of display and the desire to outdo others are indulged to a shocking extent upon these solemn occasions.

It must be said too, that the ministers themselves are responsible for one of the most objectionable features of the funeral. The eulogy, spoken often without due regard for the character of the deceased, may be prompted by the kindliest of sentiments, but the harrowing rehearsal of the last illness which usually precedes this discourse is wholly unwarranted. It can have no other effect than to deepen the grief of the bereaved Rather, as these Reading clergymen suggest, should the mourners be cheered by the higher life upon which the departed has entered.

Our funeral ceremonies, like all matters of everyday observance, are firmly imbedded in custom. To change them will be difficult and require time. But emanating from a source which has such immediate control over them, some good may be expected to flow from this movement. —Reading Eagle.

To Feed Crude Oil to Hogs

Several well-to-do farmers of Cass county, Ind., have formed a company to drill for oil, and County Auditor Gard, who is president of the company, announces that the crude oil will not be placed on the market, but will be fed to hogs.

Mr. Gard says that experiments made by him and others have shown that hogs thrive better when a liberal supply of oil is given them when being fattened for market, and that while it conduces to health the oil is much cheaper as food than corn at prices which have obtained for the past two years.

The discovery of the beneficial effects of eating the crude oil was made accidentally when hogs were running in the fields where oil was produced, and tests were then made with the result that the company was formed to produce oil for the special purpose of feeding it to hogs.

Bar Cupid's Work.

From the state of Iowa comes the word that a bar will be placed on Cupid's work. The plan to our way of thinking is good, and altogether worthy of following. The preachers have indorsed what they call a marriage commission made up of three men and three women physicians. This commission is to have power to regulate all marriages in the State and to say who shall and who shall not be married. The plan was first advocated by Judge McVey, of the District Court. The ministers will draft a bill embodying this idea and submit it to the next Legislature. They believe that such a board would restrict the divorce evil and suppress criminal, degenerate and pauper marriages.

A physician writing on the subject of that often fatal disease, pneumonia, says that the malady may be easily detected by a person not skilled as a diagnostician. There is difficulty in breathing, fever, thirst and a dull, deep-seated pain in the chest. The cheeks are flushed and there is rising and falling of the abdomen in breathing. By placing the ear against the chest a crackling sound, similar to that produced by throwing salt on red hot coals, may be heard. When these symptoms appear a physician should be sent for at once. While waiting his arrival, poultices may be applied to the chest, and unless the doctor is very near at hand it would be safest to administer a cathartic. Deep breathing is also helpful. Pneumonia acts very quickly, and unless a change for the better soon takes place the disease will rapidly advance until death ensues. When taken in season, however, it is not as serious as is generally supposed. It would be well for the reader to cut this out and preserve it for reference.

An Irishman obtained permission from his employer to attend a wedding. He turned up next day with his arm in a sling and a black eye. "Hello, what is the matter," said his employer. "Well you see," said the wedding guest, "we were very merry yesterday, and I saw a fellow strutting about with a swallow-tailed coat and a white waistcoat. 'And who might you be,' said I. 'I'm the best man,' said he, and begorra, 'e was too."

CITY AND COUNTRY.

Their Mutual Dependence and Mutual Interests.

Lately we have heard much about the dominance of the country in urban affairs, especially in Greater New York. The contempt with which the New Yorker refers to that indefinite somewhere known as "up the state" can only be equaled by his abject dependence on the products of that same country "up the state" for his daily bread. Fence off the city of New York at the Harlem river and cut off supplies, and how long could she exist? If the country is dependent on the city for its markets, the city is doubly dependent on the country, for its very lifeblood is drawn from it.

After all, the only thing which God gave to man was the earth. From it comes all wealth. It has been placed nowhere else. It must be dug out of the soil in agriculture or wrought out of mines. All things spring from the soil, and all things must return to it. Whatever else happens, whether panics come or national convulsions occur, though syndicates and trusts may corner production, yet the soil remains, and from it everything necessary to man's sustenance can be gained.

Condition depends upon character far more than character upon condition, and the usefulness of the resident of the country, like that of the city, is dependent upon faithfulness to duty. Let us make it our aim, then, whether we be residents of the country or the city—

To love some one more dearly every day,
To help a wandering child to find its way,
To ponder o'er a noble thought and pray
And smile when evening falls;
To follow truth as blind men long for light,
To do our best from dawn of day till night,
To keep our hearts fit for his holy sight
And answer when he calls.

—George A. Fuller.

KEYSTONE PATRONS.

Grange Work In Pennsylvania Outlined by State Master Hill.

State Master Hill at the thirtieth annual session of the Pennsylvania state grange made a strong plea for co-operation of granges with the agricultural colleges and experiment stations and urged a general display of the products of the state at the world's fair, St. Louis, in 1904.

Referring to the vexed taxation question, State Master Hill stated that the personal property of his state is valued at $3,859,500,000 and pays taxes aggregating $12,132,500, making a mileage rate of 3¼ mills. Real estate has a valuation of $2,776,800,000 and for the same period pays taxes amounting to $48,783,500, or an average mileage rate of a little over 17 mills. The contrast is striking. Everything the farmer has in sight is taxed as real estate.

Patrons feel that better roads cannot come too soon provided that the burden of building and maintaining is not, as in the past, thrown upon farmers. We have for years stood ready to join forces on a fair basis with the other interests of the state in securing them.

Patrons were urged to make more general use of banks for the deposit of their money and to use checks as a medium for making payments. A bank account gives farmers standing. It is a great inspiration to keep it good and to make it larger. It develops business acumen and often saves money. A larger use of checks would save farmers thousands of dollars in the one item of sending money by mail.—American Agriculturist.

The Grange a Peacemaker.

The master of a subordinate grange writes: "We owe more to the grange in our community than we can estimate. Two years ago we first organized. Before this our community was divided into two factions, caused by the leadership of two rival neighbors. They all joined the grange and are now on good terms and peaceable. At first the meetings were a little cold, but the more frequently they met the more friendly they grew till now no discord can be found. I attribute it to the teaching and sentiment of the grange."

This is only one of the many instances of the kind that have come under my own observation, says a writer in the National Stockman. The grange in affording opportunities for association and culture gives these individuals something to do, and thus their energies can be expended in good work, and their desire for contention with their neighbors ceases.

The 1,000 ton barge canal bill passed the New York state legislature, but was earnestly fought at every stage by the state grange legislative committee and other officials and members of the Order. Now for the popular vote on it, or, rather, against it.

A live granger writes: "If I belonged to a dying or dead grange, I would hunt the death microbe and kill him. Death, save of superstition, error, ignorance, is very unpopular these days."

The northern New York granges are to make "grange day" at Thousand Island park, on the St. Lawrence, an occasion of unusual interest this year.

The grange has the proud distinction of securing more state and national laws in the interests of agriculture than all other organizations combined.

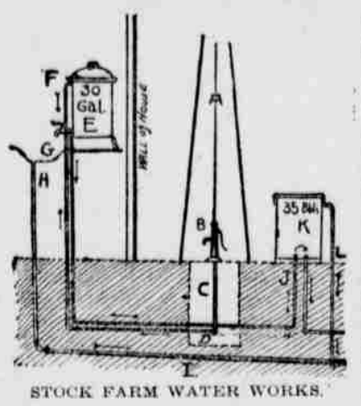
New York state has been increasing her grange membership very rapidly since Jan. 1.

LIVE STOCK

FARM WATER SUPPLY.

Ohio Farmer Describes a System That Has Been Used for Years with Great Success.

I send a sketch of my water supply which may be of interest to some. I find it very handy in summer. I hardly ever put my mill out of gear, and I an never out of water, and water always cool in house. A is the windmill; B, the pump. C is the manhole or dry well. D is pipe leading to house tank. E is house tank, holds 30 gallons. F is overflow to house tank leading back to supply tank. G is sink where I also have hot and cold water and well water.



STOCK FARM WATER WORKS.

H is waste pipe to sink. I is tile drain for sink, cellar and dry well, and supply tank overflows. J is pipe leading to supply tank. K is a 35-barrel supply tank about 100 feet from house and 40 feet from windmill. L is outlet for supply tank. M is pipe leading from supply tank to stock tank about 60 feet off; the supply is governed in stock tank by a float, and other tanks sit on a level with main stock tank that are supplied and governed by it.

I used three-quarters pipe for all, but the outlet to house tank and supply tank, which must be 1¼ pipes are laid 3½ feet under ground, through cellar wall and up into kitchen.

Now comes what led me to send this sketch—the inquiry asking how to keep tank from freezing. My supply tank is near my feed yard, where I put a stack of corn fodder around it and over it in the fall, and feed it off in late spring. My stock tanks are away from buildings far enough so I can heat them with tank heater and a little coal.—C. Ottgen, in Ohio Farmer.

A Toast to the Horse.

The Baltimore Sun says the following toast to the ever-faithful friend of man, the beautiful and noble horse, copied from the wall of a Maryland stable and published in the Rider and Driver, is of unknown origin, but is worthy of perpetuation: "Here's to that bundle of sentient nerves, with the heart of a woman, the eye of a gazelle, the courage of a gladiator, the docility of a slave, the proud carriage of a king, and the blind obedience of a soldier; the companion of the desert plain, that turns the moist furrows in the spring in order that all the world may have abundant harvest, that furnishes the sport of kings, that with blazing eye and distended nostril fearlessly leads our greatest generals through carnage and renown, whose blood forms one of the ingredients that go to make the ink in which all history is written, and who finally, in black trappings, pulls the humblest of us to the newly sodded threshold of eternity."

Teach the Pigs to Eat.

Be sure and give the pigs plenty of exercise, and as soon as possible the little pigs should be taught to eat. By providing a little pen wherein they can get cracked corn and sweet milk, they will soon be able to get away with lots of feed and will transform it into bone and flesh, thereby decreasing the drain on the sow. If the sow does not lose in flesh they should be allowed to suckle for eight weeks; but this must be governed by conditions. One of the great secrets of successful hog raising is to watch both ends of the hog and feed accordingly.—Farmers' Review.

Variety in Horse Rations.

As a man grows tired of the same food day after day, so does a horse. He appreciates a change of diet, and is in every way better for having it. When horses are on grass, their digestive organs are kept in order, and nothing beyond one feed of oats a day is required, but in the winter, when they are confined so large a part of the time, they should have warm mashes once a day, with a quart or so of chopped carrots mixed therein twice a week. In severe weather the water for all stock should have the chill taken off it.—Rural World.

What Corn Wheat Is.

The corn-wheat that has been exploited from the northwest is nothing more nor less than a macaroni wheat with a large berry. From the tests conducted throughout the state by the Nebraska experiment station, it is safe to say that macaroni wheats yield better than other spring varieties, but we have no data of comparison with winter wheat. The Russian varieties are superior in yield, the average being 21.2 bushels per acre.

GRANGE NEWS.

By J. T. Allman, Press Correspondent and Secretary Penn'a. State Grange.

Donation Grange No. 330, Huntingdon county, is in fine working ing order, better than it has been for a long time.

GEO. E. CORNELIUS, Sec.

Four new granges were organized in Pennsylvania during the month of April:

No. 1232 Mercer Co.
No. 1234 Armstrong Co.
No. 1235 Clarion Co.
No. 1236 McKean Co.

Sixteen new granges have been organized in this State since January 1, 1903.

Bro. G. R. Stiffler, Sec. of Scotch Valley Grange, No. 510, Blair county, writes: "We have recently initiated 7 members and have a class of 5 more for next meeting with prospects of a larger number in the near future." A strong disposition to improve in music and literary work has developed. A new organ was recently purchased and paid for.

THE SUBORDINATE GRANGE.

The subordinate grange is a link in the great chain now stretching from ocean to ocean, binding hundreds of thousands of the men and women of the farm in a fraternal body and by sacred obligation to put forth every effort to raise the standard of intelligence among the tillers of the soil and secure a just distribution of the burdens of society, as well as of the fruits of our labor.—O. Gardner.

Bro. D. B. McWilliams, of Port Royal, Pa., member of the Finance Committee, while out on Farmer's Institute work, had for one of his talks: "Education Through Organization." This subject as presented by him, is spoken of by those who heard him as presenting very strong and forcible arguments why Farmers Should Organize. He appeals to the reason and argues logicaly. Pomona and subordinate granges wanting a speaker for private or public occasions should correspond with him at Port Royal, Pa.

Sandy Lake Grange No. 393, Mercer Co., Pa., was organized Dec. 7, 1874, with 23 charter members. Hard times drove this grange into dormancy in 1880 and it slept for nearly 22 years. Some of the members never lost their first love and they longed for the benefits and pleasures they once enjoyed. Worthy Deputy, D. W. Burnett was notified and on Jan. 24, 1902 he, with Worthy State Master W. F. Hill, reorganized the Grange with 20 charter members. Not one member has withdrawn since the reorganization. New ones have been added from time to time until the membership is now over forty.

T. J. BOOHER.

April 4, 1903, was a record breaking day for Standing Stone Grange No. 354 of Bradford Co. The meeting was called to order at 11 a. m. and the 4th degree was conferred on a class of 8 prominent citizens. At 12.30 all gathered around the tables and all enjoyed a sumptuous feast. At 2:30 the work of the day was again resumed and the new members were shown the full workings of the 4th degree.

Two old members have been reinstated and a number of other new members are in sight. This grange organized 29 years ago has been for a long time one of the weak granges. It now bids favor to take a place among the strong ones. Our rejoicing is clouded by the death of Brother Achatius Stevens, a charter member, who has been faithful and active in the order since 1874.

W. B. TAYLOR.

The principle of Direct Legislation through the Initiative and Referendum is of late attracting widespread attention. Many thinking men regard it as the hope of the republic. Under it ours would truly be a government of the people, by the people. Through it the people can, by petition, secure the consideration of any measure in which they may be interested and by the same means they can require any bill passed by the legislature to be voted upon by the people before it becomes a law.

The states of South Dakota and Oregon have by amendments to their constitutions adopted the Initiative and Referendum. In the latter state the Grange was one of the main factors in securing it. Since last November the State Granges of Illinois, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Minnesota and Rhode Island have gone on record as favoring it. Granges everywhere should discuss it until all become informed as to the principle and its possibilities.

The Supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of Smith against Muncy Creek township, Lycoming county, affirming the judgment obtained in the county court. This case grew out of an accident which happened to the plaintiff over two years ago. While driving a traction engine over a bridge near Clarkstown, the structure gave way, and Smith was badly injured. The jury in the lower court rendered a verdict in his favor for the sum of $7,218 The case was carried to the higher court, with the above result. The costs and fees in the case will make the total sum about eight thousand dollars.

ELY'S LIQUID CREAM BALM is an old friend in a new form. It is prepared for the particular benefit of sufferers from nasal catarrh who are used to an atomizer in spraying the diseased membranes. All the healing and soothing properties of Cream Balm are retained in the new preparation. It does not dry up the secretions. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cents. At your druggist's or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

A Quakake farmer wrote to a New York firm asking for seed for a steel plant, as he desired to raise a crop. The firm replied by asking $5,000,000 to cover postage and packing. It is hardly likely that Rube will get any seed this year.

Harder Values Alta-Idaho Very High.

Charles M. Harder of Catawissa, who has for a number of years made a special study of mineralogy, has been traveling through several of the western states with the view of becoming better acquainted with the mines in which our eastern people are interested.

He is now at Pardee, Idaho, looking over the property and the mines of the Alta-Idaho Gold and Copper Mining Company, which is owned by Pennsylvania people. In a telegram just received he states that he "found Alta-Idaho a system of gigantic mineral veins, that the company has exceptional advantages, and that the stock of this company is selling too low in comparison with intrinsic value of the property owned by the company."

Fondness for Stage Led to Poverty.

Rather comely of face, but diminutive in form, a girl, to all appearances not over 18 years of age and giving her name as Mame Winster, appeared in town Monday evening. She had been lured from her home in Hazleton, so she said, last fall by the glitter of the footlights, and she wanted to obtain work to get money to go home. Just how she reached Bloomsburg she did not state, but in all probability she worked, her appearance seemed to indicate as much, at least.

Her story was the same old theme, in a minor key. A talent for singing rag time, popular in amateur theatricals, an ambition to shine before the footlights, a good, comfortable home forsaken, designing theatrical managers, disappointment, distress and despair.

It appears that since she left home her lot has been a hard one. She has tried company after company but failure followed failure, until she decided to find employment in some other line, and go back to her old home. She left Bloomsburg Tuesday morning.

Normal Organization.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School held last Saturday evening the following organization was effected: President, A. Z. Schoch; Vice President, J. C. Brown; Secretary, J. M. Clark; Treasurer, H. J. Clark. In the absence of Mr. Schoch from town the standing committees have not yet been appointed.

A High-Bred Horse.

Mr. T. E. Hyde has established a horse breeding farm at Edgemont, Grovania station. Among his recent purchases is Sildare, No. 27612, probably a horse of the best strain ever brought to this section.

In his breeding he has three crosses of Mambrino King and two of Chimes, and the Chimes, Mambrino King Nick is now recognized as the greatest cross in the history of breeding. Chimes has to his credit three fastest trotters ever sired by one horse. Mambrino King has three faster trotters than have ever been sired by any other stallion than Chimes. Each have eight in the 2.10 list and no stallion has ever produced eight performers whose average time equals the average of the performers of either Chimes or Mambrino King.

Moreover Mambrino King was said to be "the handsomest horse in the world," and the greatest show horse of his time. Sildare is in color and markings like his grandsire, Mambrino King, and in head and neck is nearly like him. Sildare is a very dark chestnut, coming 4 years old in June, and will make a horse of about 16 hands and weighing about 1150 to 1200. He is handsome, stylish and splendidly gaited. With our prosperous business conditions over the entire country more and more men are enabled to indulge their fancy for a fine horse, and an extra fine one commands almost a king's ransom. Thomas W. Lawson, who paid Mr. C. J. Hamlin $50.000 for Dare Devil (the sire of Sildare), said in a recent article that he would pay $3000 apiece for all the perfect road horses he could get. He also says he expects Dare Devil to be the greatest sire of his time in producing the highest type of perfect road horses.

BASE BALL.

In the second game with Normal on Thursday afternoon Williamsport again took the school boys into camp. The visitors scored in only one inning but it proved enough to win the game. McCabe was on the slab for Normal and barring the third inning in which he was touched up for five hits he pitched good ball. Hasset was the twirler for Williamsport and his work was all to the good. He had the nicest delivery of any pitcher seen here in many a day. He had the locals hitting at all sorts of things and the accumulation of six safe ones was the best they could do. The work of Hummel stood out as the brightest thing in the game. The score follows:

Normal	0-1-1-1-0-0-2-0-0—5
Williamsport	0-0-8-0-0-0 0-0-0—8

NORMAL 3, FREELAND TIGERS 1.

The game on Saturday with the Freeland Tigers was the best of the season and was won by Normal through Shaffer's masterly pitching. He had good speed and a repertoer of benders that puzzled the coal barons. Normal's play showed a marked improvement over previous games. The score by innings:

Freeland	0-0-1-0-0-0-0-0-0—1

YESTERDAY'S GAME.

It wasn't Umpire Sherwood's fault that Normal didn't win yesterday's game with the Cuban Giants. He gave a weird exhibition but the colored fellows took the roasting good naturedly and kept the crowd laughing by their funny remarks. The locals took the lead in the first inning and held it till the ninth when the Cubans by a batting streak won out.

Marcy tried to cover the left garden territory but made a lamentable failure. Manager Sutliff should look over the material on the second team and mend this hole in the outfield.

The crowd yesterday was the largest of the season. The same teams play again today.

Normal	5-0 0-3-0-0-0 0-0—8
Cuban Giants	1 0-2-0-0-0-3-0-3—9

treated the crowd which included hinself, his brother William Honabach and Levan. He appeared to have plenty of money. He displayed a twenty dollar bill and some other money where everybody could see it. He took the money from his pay envelope and after setteling for the drinks put it back in his pocket. Levan, he said left a few minutes before McAndrews upon the statement that he had worked all night and was going home to sleep. On cross-examination he said he would not be positive about the exact time the men had left his hotel, but that it was to the best of his konwledge.

The testimony of William Honabach was a corroboration of that of his brother. McAndrews, he said took two or three drinks and a cigar. He was apparently under the influence of liquor.

Daniel Roach, a saloon keeper, testified that he had sold McAndrews three drinks. He wanted more but he refused to give it to him. He saw Levan and McAndrews come out of the Honabach Hotel. Levan preceded McAndrews by a few minutes but the two went in different directions.

Dr. Gwinner was recalled to the witness stand and asked by Fred Ikeler, counsel for Levan, whether or not he had found anything beside the club with which the blows might have been struck, to which he replied that he had not.

Monroe Rape was the next witness called. He found McAndrews along the road between ten and eleven o'clock on the morning of March 30th. The exact point was about fifty yards from the summit of the hill between Montana and Centralia. In the road near the body he found a cap, a five cent piece and a club. McAndrews was lying face downward with his feet toward Centralia. There was some blood in the middle of the road. He and Kostenbauder who was with him, went to Centralia and notified 'Squire Black.

John Knittle, of Montana, testified that on the morning McAndrews was found he and Frank Fetzer and John Startzel were shooting mark along the railroad. He saw Levan come from the direction where McAndrews was found. This to the best of his knowledge was about eleven o'clock. Mrs. Minear met them after they started toward Centralia and told them that a man had been found along the road. On cross examination he did not know from what direction Levan had come. When they met Levan had asked to see his gun and that was all he could remember.

Frank Fetzer testified that he had only seen Levan when the latter called to him from the railroad.

John Startzel testified that he first saw Levan coming up the railroad track from the direction of Centralia.

Thomas Quigley of Centralia took the witness stand next. He stated that on Thursday after the finding of McAndrews he went to the scene and found a piece of wagon brake which he identified. The one end of it was covered with blood and hair. When cross examined he said that Turrance Burke had picked up the iron and had given it to him. It was a foot long.

At this point District Attorney Duy read the testimony of Levan given at the coroner's inquest in which he said that on the morning McAndrews was found he had been in Honabach's place. He admitted having taken several drinks with McAndrews and that he left before McAndrews and went to Charles Kushops blacksmith shop. He had never seen McAndrews before that day. He did not see any money other than that which was thrown on the bar in payment for drinks. Monroe Rape was the first to tell him of the finding of McAndrews, which was about fifteen minutes after he had left the hotel. From the blacksmith shop he went to Ringtown where he had some business.

The last witness was J. C. McKelvy, a detective, in the employ of the Linden Detective Agency of Philadelphia. He testified that he was familiar with the spot where McAndrews was found. By the road it was not quite a half mile from the hotel. He had walked it in eight minutes. By the railroad it was over a half mile and through the brush. He said a person could easily reach it by way of the blacksmith shop and the railroad. He walked it in fourteen minutes. Mr Ikeler cross examined the witness. He said that he had been employed by District Attorney Duy and had been working on the case for five weeks. He met Levan the second day after he arrived at Aristes in Honabach's saloon. To the question, "Has Levan ever made any statement concerning the murder?" he answered, "he has never made any statement to me." "Has he ever made any statement to you concerning his whernebouts that morning?" "No sir."

This closed the testimony and Fred Ikeler, counsel for Levan moved for discharge on the ground that the commonwealth had failed to make out a case against the prisoner.

Grant Herring for the commonwealth said that they had connected Levan with the crime in a manner sufficient to warrant the Justice in holding him. The Justice concurred and the prisoner was recommitted to the custody of the Sheriff to await trial at the September term of court.

A. M. E. Church Rally.

The A. M. E. Church rally last Sunday was a success. The Pastor, trustees and members with faithfulness and push raised $218.50. Of this amount $50.00 was given in memory of Rev. W. G. Ferguson and Rev. J. P. Tustin, by Mrs. E. B. Tustin, and $4.00 by Edward B. Tustin Jr., $4.00 by Joseph P. Tustin. The balance of the money was raised by the Pastor and trustees, Glasco Cameron, Anthony Alexander and the faithful members from their many friends. Mr. E. M. Kester had placed his claim of $31.33 in the hands of his attorney. The trustees paid the same off, and the church being $70.00 in the pastor's debt he asked for $45.00 to help him pay his debts, in order that he could keep his word, and we felt it our duty as he has worked so hard for us, and as the pastor and trustees have an agreement with Mr. E. B Tustin the balance of the money has been placed in the First National Bank until he returns home, and then Creasy & Wells and others that the church owe will be paid. The entire church joins in with the pastor and officers in thanking all for their great and generous help.
